

Midwest Fire Rescue Expo®
CEU Training Sessions
Wednesday, May 22, 2024 • 8:00 AM - 4:30 PM

Instructional Ethics
Asst. Chief Stacy Robinson

1 Inspector Credit/1EMS/IC Credit

We all have views on Ethics and Ethical situation. The presentation will stimulate your thinking of yours, as well as, others ethical thoughts. Not all people view things in the same manner. This presentation will show this and that there is no absolute correct answer, but the overall goal remains the same in maintaining an Ethical Instructional Compass that creates an inviting and comfortable learning atmosphere.

Meeting the Needs of Generational Learners in Today's Fire and Emergency Services

Chief Kurt Corradi • Asst. Chief Retired Andy Bezenah

2 Inspector Credits/2EMS/IC Credits

This training will focus on addressing the differences that generational learners present to today's fire and emergency services instructors. This course will discuss utilizing pre-course surveys to identify the preferred student learning style, followed by tailoring the course to meet the student's individual needs.

Strategies and Tactics of Effective facilitation
Chief Mark Cleveland • Deputy Chief Thea Dornbush

2 Inspector Credits/2 EMS/IC Credits

This presentation will examine the strategies and tactics for effective facilitation, including tips and tools to improving their lectures for the 21st century adult learner. The participant will understand that including the use of technology in the classroom will increase the effectiveness of their lectures while making them fun and interesting. This class will also take an extensive look at controlling and utilizing space strategically and the Do's and Don'ts of facilitation. Utilizing free technology combined with power point can develop critical thinking skills and turn any lecture or training night into a success.